

Beyond Late Development

Taiwan's Upgrading
Policies

Alice H.Amsden and
Wan-wen Chu

Contents

List of Figure and Tables vii

Preface xi

Acknowledgments xii

1 Scale 1

The Trend toward Large-Scale Firms 4

State-Led Networking 14

2 Second Movers: Electronics 19

The Television Era 19

The Calculator Era 28

The Notebook Era 32

Ramping Up 36

Rewards of Ramp-Up: Economies of Scale 58

Dawn of the Cell Phone Era 60

Industry-Level Changes from Upgrading 61

Conclusion 76

3 Government-Led Networking 77

The Nonelectrical Machinery Industry 79

Networks in the Electronics Industry 92

Government Leadership in High-Tech 101

Conclusion 117

4 Modern Services: Comeback by Big Business Groups 119

Big Business Groups 119

The Services Sector 125

Diversification 133

Government-Led Networking: Services 149

Foreign Direct Investment 152

Consolidation and Concentration 155

Conclusion 158

5 Policies for Upgrading 161

Invalid Assumptions 162

Neutral Networks 164

The Neo-development State: High-Tech Industry 167

The Regulatory State 171

Generalizability of the Latecomer Model 172

Notes 177

References 189

Index 199